

Labex IDGM+

The IDGM+ excellence project aims to promote high quality research in order to reexamine international development policies. IDGM+ focuses on the following key topics :

- development effectiveness
- sustainable development
- global governance of development

The IDGM+ Labex brings together the International Development Research Center (CERDI), the Foundation for the Study and Research on International Development \(FERDI\), and the Institute for Sustainable Development and International Relations \(IDDRI\).

Its goal is to create a nation-wide French think tank on sustainable development, with the aim of solidifying the scientific basis of development possibilities, as well as increasing the visibility of French research in this field

More on the website: <http://idgm.fr>

<https://cerdi.uca.fr/english-version/labex-idgm>