Dates

from January 21, 2022 to March 20, 2022

2022 International Conference

(ICDE) – Clermont-Ferrand

The CERDI will host the 2022 International Conference in Development Economics (ICDE) scheduled on the 30th of June and 1st of July 2022. The conference will be the first scientific event of a soon-to-be French association on development economics, the AFEDEV. The objectives of this association will be to federate researchers and practitioners in the field of development economics and to promote research in development economics in France.

The keynote lectures will be delivered by Rabah Arezki (African Development Bank), Jean-Marie Baland (Université de Namur) and Ana María Ibáñez (Universidad de los Andes and Inter-American Development Bank).

The deadline for submission is March 20th, 2022.
