Indian manufacturing companies: Innovations, exports, productivity and the business environment

Published on February 22, 2019 – Updated on April 5, 2019

Dates
on the February 22, 2019

Location

Focus on Research

Indian manufacturing companies: Innovations, exports, productivity and the business environment

In their article to be published in Applied Economics, Marie-Ange Véganzonès-Varoudakis (Cerdi) and Patrick Plane (Cerdi) study in a new way the interactions between innovation, exports and productivity of Indian manufacturing companies.

[Read in French]
About the authors

Patrick Plane
Director of Research at CNRS, Université Clermont Auvergne, CNRS, IRD, CERDI, F-63000 Clermont-Ferrand, France.

Marie-Ange Véganzonès-Varoudakis
CNRS Researcher, Université Clermont Auvergne, CNRS, IRD, CERDI, F-63000 Clermont-Ferrand, France.

Reference