We are Ninjas: How Economic History Has Infiltrated Economics Through Cliometrics

Published on July 17, 2018 – Updated on July 17, 2018

Claude Diebolt, the editor of the Handbook of Cliometrics, presents in this talk the application of history to economic modelling and econometric techniques. He shows how cliometrics or economic history can help us understand the contemporary dynamics of development (talk in English, debate in French).

More information: French Cliometric Association

Claude Diebolt, Research Director at CNRS, Professor at Université de Strasbourg, President of the French Economic Association (Association Française de Science Economique/AFSE)